Dear Doctor Cormie:-

Yours of Mar. 22nd to hand some time ago.

I also received a letter from Miss Edwards. From her letter it strikes me that all she knows of sewing is what she has done for herself. She may know how to do that all right but it is a vastly different thing to making dresses, slips, shirts, nightgowns, etc for 100 children, having girls in your sewing room who have to be taught how to do the work, piles of mending coming up every week. You have to know just what needs to be done and how to go ahead with it and get it done. Besides there are the other supervision duties in the school that all the staff share in. I have written her telling her more definitely the job and hope to hear from her before the last mail comes in.

Speaking of James Taylor you ask "if the fact that he wants to be married is a disqualification". Why no, he can want to as much as he likes, it is a good thing to want, only he would have to wait till his work here was finished for we have not the accomodation for a married man in the building.

By getting a local woman to help with the spring cleaning in the building I think we will be able to manage without getting anyone in the first boat. I may be able to see some of the prospects when I am in to Conference. And that is going to be here before we know it too, especially if the spring is as wonderfully fine as the winter has been.

Joan continues to grow and keep well, and we think a little bit more perfectly lovely baby every day.

Kindest regards to Mrs. Cormie from Mrs. Chapin and myself.

Yours very sincerely,
